I am eager to contribute to challenging projects and grow professionally while making a positive impact.

PROJECTS

WanderLust

📅 03/2024 06/2024

I developed 'Wander Lust,' a website replicating Airbnb, to showcase my web development skills. This project highlights my proficiency with MongoDB, Express, Node.js, JavaScript, HTML, and CSS. The site enables users to browse and book accommodations, demonstrating my ability to integrate a backend database with a dynamic, user-friendly front end.

Twitter Clone

I created a Twitter clone using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, replicating core features like posting tweets, timelines, and user interactions to demonstrate my front-end development skills.

Happy people

Created a website that educate people about mental health.

This website asks some question to the users and tell them which type of mental disease they have based on their answers. It also connect patience to therapists if they want . Technologies used are HTML, CSS and JavaScript.
